We received a communication last week after our paper had been issued out a surprise party given to Mrs. K. Dunkle in West Reynoldsville on Sunday evening, Feb. 25th. Thirty ladies were present. Mrs. Dunkle was the recipient of many useful presents. Dinner was served.

A meeting of the Junior Prohibition League will be held in Centennial Hall Saturday evening at half past seven o'clock. The young people of the town are cordially invited to attend. Travel over the P. & E. railroad between Renovo and Lock Haven Saturday, Sunday and Monday was impossible on account of the track being covered with ice in several places. A meeting of the physicians of Jefferson and Clearfield counties will be held at DuBois on the 20th inst. Dr. John B. Roberts, of Philadelphia, will attend the meeting and address the physicians. Robbers broke into the store of Daniel Steiner at Knoxdale, this county, last Thursday morning and took eight dollars in cash and a few goods and then set the store on fire. The fire was discovered, the alarm given but the goods were most all destroyed. Mr. Steiner had $1,000 insurance on his stock. Dr. S. Reynolds drove out near Troutville Sunday and amputated the big toe on the right foot of William Dickey, the one armed man who resided in this neighborhood for a few years. Mr. Dickey's toe was frozen during the extreme cold snap this winter. He says his toe was frozen while he was in bed. It cost Elk county $654.60 for maintaining the quarantine at Dagus mines last spring at the time of the small-pox scare. The disease was prevented from spreading, however, and but for the prompt action of the health authorities a terrible epidemic might have followed the one fatal case.—Brookwayville Record. There were two letters received at the Ridgway postoffice last Friday which were the objects of much interest and curiosity. They were in a badly dilapidated condition and by the official marks they were recognized as having been washed ashore in one of the mail bags that had been on board the ill-fated steamship "Elbe."—Ridgway Advocate. Mrs. Abijah W. Davis, of Clayville, some years ago a resident of Reynoldsville, died at her home on Tuesday of last week of consumption. She was almost 47 years old. Mr. Davis is left with four boys and two girls to care for. The deceased was a christian lady, kind neighbor and affectionate wife and mother. She has friends here who learn of her demise with regret. M. B. Wynkup, who has been engaged for sometime on the saw mill owned by Messrs. Kipp & Clark, of Anita, Pa., will resign his position at that place this month. Mr. Wynkup understands the saw mill business and has accepted a position as head sawer on Arthur O'Donnell's mill at Camp Run, and will move his family and take charge of the boarding house at that place April 1st. The Pittsburg Times, which is always to the front with liberal offers, will give public school teachers a chance of a tour through Scotland, England, France, Belgium and Holland, to be made during the vacation season of 1895. This trip will be given to the five school teachers of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Maryland for whom the greatest number of votes are cast by the readers of the Times during the three and a half months, beginning last Friday, March 1st. Besides paying all expenses the Times will present to each tourist $100 in gold for pocket money. The rules laid down in this contest are very strict. It is the object of the Times to have a fair contest.

ENTHUSED ABOUT Y. M. C. A. Many Citizens Anxious for an Association Here. At the present time there is more enthusiasm about a Y. M. C. A. for Reynoldsville among the young people, and older ones too, than has ever been stirred up before, and we have hopes of seeing it result in an association in our town before the chilly winds of November reach us again. There is no reason why it should not be organized. The only place in town at present that would be suitable is the second story of the Arnold block. The families occupying the rooms in the block will move out if arrangements can be made with Mr. A. D. Deemer to rent the building for a Y. M. C. A. We want good rooms and a good location. If the association is organized it will not be necessary to have the police make the young men move off the corners, for they will find amusements in the Y. M. C. A., either in the gymnasium or playing innocent games or reading good literature that will be provided. As stated last week, the editor of THE STAR is interested in this matter and will make every possible effort to assist in getting a Y. M. C. A. here. Harold's Debut. Harold, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. B. Arnold, who has arrived at that age when he can join in and enjoy "society's whirl," made his debut in a "phantom and conundrum" party last Friday evening, which was quite a "swell affair." Twenty-five young people attended the party, and when all had assembled the ladies and gentlemen went to separate rooms and got on their "apparition" apparel—sheet and pillowcase—and it was a ghostly sight when they gathered in the parlor again. Conundrums were stuck up on the walls and the one who guessed the most of them was to receive a prize and the one who guessed the least number was to get a booby prize. Miss Nellie Arnold carried off the first prize and Jos. Mitchell the second. The ghosts all looked alike so that no one could tell a male from a female ghost. After considerable sport and about time for the "spirits" to gather around the festive board, Mrs. Arnold managed to pick out the girls in the crowd and they were sent up stairs and attached to the end of a string, and each ghost down stairs was given the end of a string which he was to follow up and the apparition he found at the other end of the string was to be his partner for supper. An elegant repast was served and at 2:00 A. M. Saturday the young people departed for their respective homes wishing Harold much pleasure in society's gayety. School Board. The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville school board was held in Esq. Davis' office Monday evening and the following business was transacted: Bills amounting to $107.16 were ordered to be paid. A committee, consisting of J. M. Cathers, J. R. Pentz and P. G. Burkhardt, was appointed to receive and examine preliminary plans for a school building, and report to the board at a special meeting to be held in two weeks. A committee, consisting of M. M. Davis, W. B. Alexander and P. G. Burkhardt, was appointed to get a survey made of the Rhodes' ground for a school site, fronting not less than two hundred feet on Main street and two hundred feet on Grand street, and to submit the same to the owner of the land and ascertain their price for the same, and if price asked is too high, then make the owners thereof an offer and if it is not accepted to employ counsel and take steps to get the land by proceedings at law. The board decided to issue twenty-four thousand dollars of bonds in twelve series, the first series to be paid in three years from date of bonds, and one series yearly thereafter. The bonds to be one hundred dollar bonds and the rate of interest to be four per cent. The bonds to be sold to highest bidders. An architect from Punxsutawney and one from DuBois met the school board Monday evening. At the Gates of Death. Few if any persons living in Clearfield county have been as widely known and as universally loved and esteemed as has been Rev. Samuel Miles, now a resident of Ansonville. He is a veteran minister of the Baptist church. For several months he has been in feeble health. A powerful constitution, unimpaired by any of the mistakes or indulgences that weaken and shorten most lives, was slow to yield to the encroachments of old age. But at last the end seems to be very near. Countless friends, far and near, are momentarily expecting the tidings that the grand old soldier has joined the church triumphant. Surely his end is peace.—Clearfield Monitor. Rev. Miles is well known by the majority of the citizens of Reynoldsville having lived at Prescotville a number of years. He is the father of Robt. L. Miles and Mrs. David Reynolds of this place. Lace curtains. Deemer & Co. Ariel cycles, Ariel cycles. Staple groceries at Deemer & Co's. Ariel cycles, Ariel cycles. Stroke of Paralysis. Mrs. J. B. Ross, of Worth street, had a stroke of paralysis last Thursday morning and is now near the gates of death. Macaroni Factory. Joseph Macro, an Italian, will likely start a macaroni factory in Reynoldsville in the near future. The factory will give employment to six men from the first and as the business is built up the employees will increase. Every manufacturing enterprise helps the town, even if it is on a small scale. Robbers at Riston's. Last Friday night robbers broke one of the windows in Alex. Riston's cigar store and stole about ten revolvers that were lying in the window. An iron bolt off a railroad car, with one end sharpened to use as a pry, was thrown through the window. It is probable that the robbers were frightened away or they would have made a larger "haul." Pound Party. Rev. P. J. Slattery, pastor of the Methodist church, was given a surprise and "pound party" by about fifty members of his church and congregation last Friday evening. The people carried with them a good supply for the pastor's larder and also gave him eighteen dollars in cash. The whole affair was a very agreeable surprise to Rev. Slattery. The good people met at H. J. Nickle's store and went to the parsonage in a body. Held Up. William Foster, of this place, was held up by two highway robbers one night last week while coming along the mill dam above Prescotville. William had escorted a maiden to her home near Fuller's and had tarried a little while. When he left the domicile of the maiden it was getting well along in the evening and when in the loneliest place along the mill dam he was stopped and searched. It so happened that William was financially embarrassed at the time and the highwaymen were not any richer for their trouble. Lock the Door. Tramps occupied the lock-up several nights last week, Thursday night there were six in and on Friday night three, and the building was left open so they could go when they pleased. Tramps, and especially the class that has been loitering around Reynoldsville the past week, should have the key turned on them when they enter the lock-up and kept there until the next morning. The lock-up is a good place for them to stay until the streets are forsaken for the night and then they can crawl around a number of business places without doing much traveling. If the lock-up must be given to them, then lock them in until morning. Died from Paralytic Stroke. Thomas Cyphret, whom we mentioned last week was suffering from a stroke of paralysis, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Arnold McKee, in West Reynoldsville Tuesday evening of last week. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church Friday morning and the remains interred in the Catholic cemetery. The deceased was born in Clarion county August 18th, 1856, and was 38 years, 6 months and 8 days old. He was unmarried. Four brothers and four sisters, Mrs. Arnold McKee and Mrs. G. B. McKee, of this place, being two of the sisters, survive him. The parents are both dead. Thomas Cyphret was a sober and industrious young man and well liked by his associates. Played Lame. Last Saturday evening a chap who is loafing around town at present worked a scheme to replenish his depleted pocket book that was far from being an honest way to get money, and he could be arrested for false pretense. He had a subscription paper claiming to be a cripple just out of Adrian hospital, and to make his appeal for aid appear real, he walked very lame. He presented the paper to an Italian who had nothing less than a dollar and the man asking alms said he could get it changed and limped into another part of the hotel he was in to get change, but failed to return with the change. Such impostors make it difficult for honest and deserving people to get assistance when they ask it. Board of Trade. The board of trade held its regular monthly meeting in the Flynn hall Friday evening. Considerable important business was discussed. The following officers were nominated to be elected at the regular meeting on 5th of April: President, Dr. W. B. Alexander; 1st vice-president, Jos. S. Morrow; 2nd vice-president, Dr. B. E. Hoover, C. A. Stephenson; treasurer, C. F. Hoffman; secretary, H. Alex. Stoke; trustees, Wm. Schultze, Wm. Copping, Jas. K. Johnston. Every live business man of Reynoldsville should be a member of the board and should take an interest in it. Attend the meetings and show that you are alive to your town's best interests. The work of a board of trade is to build up a town. Gents' fine dress shirts at Deemer & Co's. Ariel cycles, Ariel cycles. Nobby dress suits at Deemer & Co's.

WANT TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS. Trouble in Store for Two West Reynoldsville Borough Officials. It was stated in THE STAR last week that a picture agent had been arrested in West Reynoldsville for selling pictures without a borough license, that the fellow was locked up several hours, given a hearing, fined $3.00, would not pay it and was allowed to go his way. It now appears that the matter will not end there, for a suit for damages is on the way. Papers were made out and sent to Sheriff Gourley last Friday to bring suit against Burgess Herpel and Constable Riggs for $10,000 damages for putting H. Gosky, the picture agent, in the lock-up. R. W. Heaton, who is looking after the business in this section for the Rhodes, Jacob Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, says the case will be pushed. It looks very much as if the West Reynoldsville officials may have some trouble before it is settled. That borough has an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale within the limits of said borough as a peddler, traveling merchant or agent books, pictures, morse, &c., without a license, and any person violating the ordinance shall be fined not less than three nor more than ten dollars for each offense. Reynoldsville has such an ordinance, but according to a decision of the United States Supreme Court, the ordinance conflicts with the inter-state commerce law. In May, 1890, a picture agent was arrested in Titusville for selling pictures without a city license and was tried and convicted in the court of the city recorder, and was fined $25.00 and costs. The case was appealed to the Court of Common Pleas of Crawford county, and the judgment of the City Recorder was affirmed. From that court it was appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and the judgment of the first two courts named was affirmed. Then the case was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States and the judgment was reversed. Justice Brewer, delivering the opinion of the Court, said: "The state cannot, for any purpose whatever, encroach upon the powers of the general government, or rights granted or secured by the supreme law of the land." Town Council. The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held in the council chambers on Monday evening, at which time three old members of the council stepped down and out and three new members were sworn in. About the only business the old council done before adjourning was to order bills amounting to over two hundred dollars to be paid. The councilmen whose time had expired were Daniel Strouse, John D. Lowther and A. F. Yost. Burgess Lattimer swore in the new councilmen, Scott McClelland, Peter Robertson and Chas. Ritzke, and the following business was transacted by the new council: Scott McClelland was elected president of council for the ensuing year. Henry A. Reed acted as secretary pro tem Monday evening, and Jos. S. Hammond was elected secretary of council for the following year. Thos. Shields, chief of police; M. M. Davis, Esq., solicitor; John D. Lowther, street commissioner. Dr. W. B. Alexander and W. H. H. Bell, jr., received a tie vote for treasurer and the matter was held over. The Burgess was authorized to proceed to collect fines from those who neglected to keep the snow and ice off their sidewalks. Day laborers are to receive $1.50 per day and teams $3.50 per day for working for the borough. Dr. J. B. Neale was elected Health officer for ensuing year. The president appointed Wm. Barkley and E. A. Stiles as policemen. Jas. McPherson is to act as policeman in the east end of town on Saturdays. The license for the Opera House and Centennial Hall was fixed at two dollars per night for entertainments where admission is charged. The following committees were appointed: Streets, Thos. Shields, Chas. Ritzke, Peter Robertson; fluca, Jerry Heckman, Chas. Ritzke; finance, Dr. S. Reynolds, Thos. Shields, Jerry Heckman; ordinance, Dr. S. Reynolds, Thos. Shields, Scott McClelland. Hear Them. The Hotchkiss Sisters gave an enjoyable entertainment of music at the Franklin M. E. church last evening. It is remarkable that every member of the family should be possessed of such talents as enable them to bring music out of everything they touch. Guitar, mouth organ, banjo, violins, bells, horns, xylophone, zither, voice in singing and lips in whistling were employed, and accompanied by the piano, furnished a very pleasing variety of sounds.—Cleveland Leader and Herald. At Centennial Hall March 8th. Reserved seats on sale at D. F. Robinson's shoe store. Notice. I have moved my insurance office, formerly over Reynolds drug store, to room next G. A. R. hall, with G. SOCIETY'S WHIRL. Wm. M. Foster was in Warren last week. Mrs. James Gibson is visiting in Punxsutawney. Mrs. A. M. Woodward visited in DuBois yesterday. W. C. Schultze, groceryman, was in DuBois Monday. Miss Lela Elder is visiting her home near Brookville. Charles Riggs visited friends in Richardsville last week. Miss Flo East, the milliner, is in Pittsburg this week. Mrs. E. C. Senor visited relatives in DuBois over Sunday. Dr. R. E. Harbison is in Indiana, Pa., this week on business. Mrs. George Mellinger visited friends in Brookville last week. Mrs. Frank Campbell is visiting her parents near Emlenton, Pa. Mrs. M. M. Cribbs, of DuBois, visited her parents in this place the past week. Jas. K. Johnston, of the Reynoldsville Hardware Co., was in DuBois Monday. David Davis, of Johnstown, was called to Reynoldsville last week by the illness of his sister, Mrs. J. B. Ross. D. W. Atwater was in Brookville last week trying to get the Sons of Veterans Camp re-organized at that place. Jackson S. Schultze, of Ridgway, Dist. Superintendent of the Elk Tanning Co., was in Reynoldsville last week. Mrs. Joseph Anderson and Miss Laura Meehling, of New Bethlehem, were the guests of Mrs. George Mellinger over Sunday. Mrs. D. G. Davis, of Morristdale Mines, is visiting at J. H. Bell's. She has been ill since coming to Reynoldsville Friday evening. Dr. S. Reynolds and Dr. J. W. Foust were at DuBois Friday attending the monthly meeting of the Jefferson county Medical Association. Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart, of Stanton, Pa., brought his family to Reynoldsville Saturday to visit Mrs. Jelbart's mother, Mrs. Butler, on Grant street. Mrs. Jas. W. Stevenson, of New York, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Davis, for some time, left for New York Monday afternoon. Mrs. Peter Rensel, of Clarion county, and Mrs. Mary McNaughton, of Catfish, Pa., were here last week attending the funeral of Thomas Cyphret, their brother. A. T. Bing and J. J. Satter, of the firm of Bing & Co., are in Philadelphia and New York this week buying an immense line of the latest styles in dress goods, &c. R. W. Norris, of Eleanora, Pa., left for Mt. Union College, O., Saturday where he expects to finish his course of study of classics, after which he will take up M. D. Miss Eleanor Reed went to Kittanning last Tuesday to attend the funeral of her father's aunt, Mrs. Sarah Brown, relict of Hon. John P. Brown. From Kittanning Miss Reed went to Rimersburg to visit relatives. Joseph Malbett, a coal miner who went to Colorado about ten months ago to earn a living for himself and family, returned to his home at this place last week and will remain here. Mr. Mallett did not find golden apples hanging on the trees of that state, in fact it is not any better than the old Keystone state. Wires in Bad Condition. Wednesday night the electric wires got tangled up somewhere in this vicinity and an over charge of electricity got onto the Western Union lines and made them jingle for a while. There was a snapping in the office in the Courier building and the switchboard fired. At Sabula the station was set on fire. The building had been closed up for the night, but some person passing saw a small blaze and it was put out before any material damage resulted. There was a rousing in the office at Reynoldsville that made the students loafing around think the world was coming to an end. Chief A. B. Weed came up yesterday to assist in straightening things up. The Western Union people are satisfied that an electric light wire came in contact with their wires some place in the central part of town, but the electric people contend that their lines did not cause the trouble.—DuBois Courier, Friday. Oats 42c per bushel at Swartz Bro's. TEA SALESMAN—A good reliable man to sell teas, coffees, spices and baking powder to families in Reynoldsville and vicinity. Bond required.
